

Come join us on Saturday, October 10, 2009
in honor of World Food Day and the 2009 NYC Wine and Food Festival
At the Diversi-T & Gallery

Celebrate culture and sustainability along with the Fast Forward Fund, Urban Design Lab at the Earth Institute, and Action Center to End World Hunger

From 5-6 pm, enjoy a complimentary cup of Organic Honeybush, and talk food and sustainability with Maria Paola Sutto of the Urban Design Lab and tea guru Miriam Novalle at her eco-friendly T-Salon in the Chelsea Market.

Then from 7-9 pm "Highline" it to the ACA Gallery, 529 West 20th St.
for an evening of music, fine art, conversation and tea-cocktails

- Flutists Elizabeth Brown and Barbara Siesel perform pieces by Brown, Fredrick Kaufman, and Francis White inspired by nature.
- See selected Common Ground 2008 digital artworks by artists focused on global environmental themes.
- The ACA Gallery concludes its show of world class artists depicting 'New York: Then and Now'.

RSVP to ashby@fastforwardfund.org

Social entrepreneur Miriam Novalle has galvanized a coalition of New York organizations to launch the Diversi-Tea Series - highlighting related issues of climate change, food and urban agriculture, architecture and design: Building Community Through a Culture of Human Rights and Sustainability. Topics are explored through interactions with experts and thought leaders, visual and performing artists, social activists, and the general public.

A schedule of events continues throughout December, 2009 in partnership with Citizens Network for Sustainable Development, the Earth Pledge Foundation, Tugboat Story & Song, and the Urban Design Lab at the Earth Institute at the TSalon, Action Center to End World Hunger, and the Phillips DePury Auction House & Gallery – visit www.TSalon.com for details.